

Attention Ladies...

You are Invited to Reveal, Refresh and Renew A Unique Women's Conference, Saturday, August 21st

Just when you needed it most, God sent this women's conference to make the ultimate difference in your life. You see, these women understand the pain and the confusion you are going through and they are committed to be there for you.

They call themselves, WINGS and their mission is to "Transform women through intimate relationships with God, His Word, and His people." The women of WINGS are the real deal. In fact, they believe that when they are "real," God can use them to help transform lives. Arm-in-arm, they are intent on developing intimate relationships with God's Word and spreading the gospel and hope to other women at the same time.

In this desire, WINGS has developed this FREE conference for you to enjoy. Passionate about the Lord, they are open as they meet other women whenever they are in their personal walk with the Lord.

Have you ever wondered whether other women would still love you, if they truly knew the REAL you? Have you been crying out for PEACE in all of the chaos of life? This conference will make a difference. Not only will you hear some great, inspiring lessons, you will absolutely leave there with many new friends that you can always count on.

The speaker for the conference is Christy Johnson. Christy has an incredible testimony of how her life was changed in the midst of a horrible tragedy...the death of her son. Her testimony and speaking are dynamic and the women from WINGS have been praying for months that God will equip her with just the right words to reach your heart and break down the walls that are presently keeping you from being happy.

Christy Johnson says, "I'm passionate about imparting hope to others held captive by the issues of life and training them to see the beauty beyond the pain and the joy on the other side."

Christy is a published author (Chicken Soup for the Soul and ParentLife). She has been a contributing writer for The Victocracy for two years, and has been published in Expect More, a collection of faith-base testimonies and Life Lessons. She has been a ghost writer for many internationally-known pastors and she has won many awards, including being chosen as American Christian Writer's 2008 Writer of the Year in Oklahoma City.

An active writer, speaker and mentor, she is passionate about sharing how to have joy in the midst of life's difficulties. Her audiences have ranged from women's groups, single's groups, and high school audiences, to offenders. She has also had the privilege of sharing her testimony on TBN as well as on local radio broadcasts. Christy is a speaker for Stonecroft Ministries, a teacher for Titus 2 Women at Victory Church, a mentor to young women and an ordained minister.

As you can tell, Christy stays very busy and God continually challenges her to do big things. She is currently working on a couple of non-fiction books for women: Rehab for Love Junkies: The Seven Habits of Soul-Healthy Women and Tissues for Your Issues: Dry your Tears and Face your Fears!
